1- What is the meaning of document design?

Is the act of bringing together prose, graphics and typography for the purpose of instruction, information or persuasion.

2- State the job of the technical designer.

It is imperative that document designers catch the reader's attention visually and connect with readers' knowledge, experience and beliefs .

analyzes the audiences??????????????

How?

Who is your audience?

What do they know?

What do they want need?

Writing with your audience in your mind

analyzes the audiences????????????

Classifying Approach: A profile of the target audience is constructed by brainstorming typical characteristics, listing facts from an outside perspective.

Intuitive Approach: By imagining a representative of the audience, designers can deliberate over what might fit the group.

Feedback Approach: Soliciting opinions from members before beginning the actual design; a designer can learn how readers will interpret text, graphics, tone, and overall layout.

3- What are the 4 points that designers must be sure to meet when tailoring a document to the reader?

❖ Help readers search for the information they want from words and pictures/graphics.

- 1) Provide visual examples.*
- 2) Use graphics to keep the reader engaged.*
- 3) Use the white space.*

❖ Make it easy for readers to generate connections between words and pictures/graphics.

❖ Ensure that readers will be able to interpret and understand the information after finding it.

❖ Be sure that readers will most likely be able to apply the information they have gained from the document.

1) Keep the writing clear.

2) And read the report more than time from you and another person.

4- What are the basics in document design?

❖ Basic principles of document design:

Proximity
Alignment
Repetition
Contrast

Proximity Tips for achieving Proximity:

- 1) Group related items together.*
 - 2) The organization is the key to effective message transmission and the purpose of the Organization makes the document more likely to be read and remembered.*
 - 3) Be conscious of where your eye is going: where do you start looking; what path do you follow; where do you end up; after you've read it, where does your eye go next?*
 - 4) Keep the sentences to a minimum not full.*
