What is a covering letter?

The covering letter is the letter, which is sent with the CV, contract, report, ...etc.

the purpose of your curriculum vitae is to give details of your background and experience, but the letter is there to state exactly what you want.

This letter is very important as it will be read before the CV It therefore creates the first impression and sets the tone of your application.

Answer 1

Thank you letters

- You absolutely MUST send a thank you letter immediately after every interview.
- In fact, you should send a thank you letter after every job search contact, telephone call, informational meeting, or other personal contact.
- The thank you letter should be mailed immediately --within 48 hours-- after the event.
- it should be typed on the same bond letterhead you used for your resume and cover letter.
- If you are more familiar with the recipient, a brief 30 word thank you note may be handwritten on a plain note card, but handwritten letters don't say business.
- the thank you letter brief. Two paragraphs are plenty.
- If thanking for an interview, mention the date you interviewed and something that will remind
- the recipient of who you are, as they may have met several job candidates on the
- same day. .

Thank You Letter

DO for Thank You Letter

DO:

- Send a thank you letter after every interview.
- Try to personalize each letter to help the interviewer remember you.
- Mail your letter within 48 hours after the interview.
- Type the letter.

DON'T :

- Handwrite a job search thank you letter unless it is a brief note to a personal acquaintance.

Dear Ms. Employer:

I'm writing to let you know how much I appreciate your taking the time to meet with me yesterday to discuss my job search. Your observations on the current legal market, and the field of family law were invaluable.

As you suggested, I am enclosing three resumes. In addition, I will contact Helen Helpful, as you suggested, in the next few days. Thank you again for your interest and guidance.

Sincerely,

Stanley Student

Dear Ms. Employer:

Thank you for meeting with me on Tuesday to discuss the open position at your firm and my qualifications for the position. I was very impressed with the professionalism and dedication of each person I met at your firm.

I was pleased to see that my business experience at Nova Industries and my law school course work would enable me to make an immediate contribution to your firm. It was also amazing to learn that we had several mutual acquaintances from Florida State, yet we had not met before. It is, indeed, a small world after all!

Thank you, again, for the interview. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Stanley Student

Acceptance letters

- You got the job! Congratulations! Now, you must write a letter to formally accept the position.
- You should specify the position and its title, the section or department to which you have been assigned, the salary and any special perks, the starting date and any other terms agreed upon by you and the employer.
- Mention how pleased you are to receive the offer.

Acceptance Letter

Do and DON'T Acceptance Letter

DO:

- Be sure to write the letter promptly, making Your acceptance clear.
- Be specific in your understanding of the job offer, starting date and other particulars.

DON'T :

- Negotiate in the letter. If there are still outstanding details, simply mention them and that you look forward to resolving them.

Dear Ms. Employer:

I am very excited about the offer you extended to me to join your firm as an Associate. I accept the position.

Your letter dated August 29, 2005, sets forth the salary, life insurance, medical benefits, vacation and sick pay policy that apply to this position. Based on our telephone discussion, it is also my understanding that the firm will pay for my bar dues and that I will be eligible to participate in the firm's 401K plan after twelve full months of employment.

You asked me to start within two weeks after receiving notice that I have been admitted to the Florida Bar. I will contact you as soon as I receive the notice so we can set a starting date.

I am very proud to be looking forward to joining your well regarded firm.

Sincerely,

Stanley Student
